HOW THIS ADDENDUM WORKS

PENDING FOUNDER ADOPTION

This volume extends World Bible Edition 02. It does not modify, supersede or reinterpret a single rule the founder authored. Where Edition 02 speaks, Edition 02 governs. This addendum covers only the ground Edition 02 leaves open, and specifies the two systems it names but does not draw: the wordmark and the type stack.

PART	CLOSES THE GAP ON
Two • Identity	Edition 02 forbids retyping, redrawing or tracing the wordmark and sets a minimum width. It does not publish the specimen, the clear space, the misuse set or the two-mark problem now live in market. Part Two does.
Three • Typography	Edition 02 names four families and their roles. Part Three sets the sizes, the hierarchy, the pairing rules and the fallback stack for anything unlicensed.
Four • Legibility	Tone-on-tone is governed for packaging. Part Four adds contrast minimums for digital, plus export standards.
A • Audience	Edition 02 governs who appears in the frame. It never defines who buys. A names the customer and turns "balance women and men" into a scored ratio.
B • Prompt system	Edition 02 is written for a commissioned photographer. B makes the house rules promptable and defines a publishing tier.
C • Motion and sound	Edition 02 is entirely stills. C governs cut rhythm, aspect ratios, titling and the sonic identity.
D • Copy and claims	Edition 02 defines voice qualities and one approved line. D supplies the working library and the regulatory language.

WHAT IT DOES NOT TOUCH

Doctrine. World Laws. The status taxonomy. Color values. Metallic hierarchy. Packaging hierarchy. The four visual modes. Feed law. The release gate. All remain exactly as authored.

ANALOG ARCHIVE – THE EMOTIONAL CENTER OF THE WORLD. REFERENCE PLATE, EDITION 02.

The adoption ask

Lock Edition 02 as authored for the quarter. Adopt this addendum beneath it as numbered parts and appendices. Neither document reopens until the scheduled quarterly review.

Everything missing gets covered without anything authored getting reopened.

TWO REVIEW GATES ADDED

- Casting ratio joins the final asset score as an eleventh category. The release requirement moves from 17 of 20 to 19 of 22.
- Generative tier must be declared on every synthetic asset before release.

ONE PAGE. TAPE IT NEXT TO THE MONITOR.

THE QUICK CARD

PALETTE

SMOKED GREEN #394439	LIVING GREEN #536B45	ALABASTER #D9D9D9	RACING RED #DD0200 SIGNAL

Gold means inheritance. Silver means precision. Black Cherry means house. Oxblood is the material name, never a second hex.

THE NINE-POST FEED

Editorial or research	3	Human life or ritual	2
Product or material	2	Nature or ingredient	1
World or institution	1	Product dominant in no more than three of nine

Never three text covers in a row. Never three product heroes in a row. Women lead at least half of the frames that carry people.

THE SIX STATUS LABELS

Locked do not change · Preferred the default unless briefed otherwise · Pending awaiting proof or approval · Prohibited never ships · Superseded replaced, sell through · Under review reopened at the quarterly only

WHO DECIDES WHAT

Founder owns doctrine, laws and every lock change. Producer owns execution inside a locked rule, batched for weekly approval. Editor owns the score and holds the release. Anyone can flag. Only the founder unlocks.

CASTING, IN ONE LINE

Black women 25–40 lead. Black, African, African-American, mixed and brown men and women 18–40, in shape, composed, put together. Women lead at least half of all frames containing people. All talent visibly 18+.

TYPE STACK

Wordmark is artwork, never typed · display face for campaign headlines, all caps, 4–12 words · editorial serif for thesis · house sans for body and captions · mono for sources and labels. No fifth family.

THE TEN THAT NEVER SHIP

- 01 A retyped, stretched or outlined wordmark
- 02 The standalone S symbol in public
- 03 Crushed blacks or smoothed skin
- 04 A blanket orange cast
- 05 Plastic foliage or fantasy ecosystems
- 06 Mascots, staged wildlife, symbolic birds
- 07 Alcohol, tobacco, intoxication as the social image
- 08 Generic cups, plastic bottles, third-party vessels
- 09 A disease claim or an unsourced statistic
- 10 A synthetic human presented as a real person

BEFORE IT POSTS

Same Timeline Test passed · one governing idea · plants in at least three of nine · readable type · accurate claim with source · correct product and status · clear action · clean sRGB export at 1080 × 1350.

Score 19 of 22 with no prohibited element, or it does not release. Twenty-two is the Edition 02 score of twenty plus the casting-ratio category added in Appendix A.5.

THE SAME TIMELINE TEST

Could this scene be physically produced? Do the materials exist? Does the light have a source? Would it belong in the world with the product removed? Four yeses or it does not go.

EVERY FRAME BELONGS TO EXACTLY ONE

THE FOUR VISUAL MODES, ON SIGHT

The modes are not moods. Each is a set of lenses, light sources and behaviors. If a frame cannot be assigned to one of the four, it is not a Supermind frame yet.

ANALOG ARCHIVE

The emotional center. Warm coffeehouses, libraries, writing tables, kitchens, records, garden chess, salons, bonfires. Honest 35mm character, 35 or 50mm lens, warm practicals at 3200–4200K, readable brown shadows, visible grain. Black intellectual life gathered around thought.

LUXURY LABORATORY

Product as precise cognitive artifact. Warm gold, mirror silver, smoked green, stone, marble, clear glass. 70–100mm or macro, f8–f11, controlled highlights, revealed seams, grain and embossing, every edge and label legible.

LIVING INTELLIGENCE

Plants as cultivation, not decoration. Botanical coffeehouses, greenhouse research, ingredient cultivation, mature trees, natural daylight, believable greens: cacao, coffee, olive, fig, oak, ficus, palms, ferns, herbs. Never a decorative jungle.

RITUAL IN MOTION

The lifestyle engine. Hikes at golden hour, gym strength work, cacao preparation, gathering at long tables, journaling, bonfires at dusk. 28, 35 or 50mm, natural directional light, fast shutter, real motion, product inside the action rather than interrupting it.

The plants rule

Living plants appear in at least three of every nine published frames. Real species, believable ecology, plausible care. This is what keeps a wellness brand from looking like a laboratory catalogue, and it is the single easiest rule to lose in a busy week.

PART TWO

IDENTITY THE WORDMARK

Edition 02 forbids retyping, redrawing or tracing the mark and sets a minimum width. It does not publish the specimen, the clear space, the misuse set, or a ruling on the two marks now live in market. This part does.

THE APPROVED WORDMARK · ARTWORK ONLY · NEVER SET FROM A TYPEFACE

2.1 – THE SPECIMEN

WHAT THE MARK ACTUALLY IS

LOCKED – ARTWORK ONLY

MASTER ARTWORK · SIGNAL IVORY ON COSMIC BLACK · REPRODUCED AT SPECIMEN SCALE

ANATOMY

A monoline geometric sans drawn at hairline weight and set on wide, even tracking. The construction is circular where it can be and squared where it must be, with flat terminals throughout and no optical corrections that would read as decoration. It is a mark that behaves like an engraving, which is why it survives being embossed, debossed, foil-stamped and machined into metal.

TRAIT	SPECIFICATION
Weight	Monoline hairline. Stroke weight is constant across every character. It does not have a bold.
Tracking	Wide and even, approximately 0.32–0.38em. The tracking is part of the artwork and is never adjusted to fit a space.
Case	All capitals. There is no lowercase, no small-cap variant and no title-case setting.
Terminals	Flat and squared, cut on the horizontal or vertical.
The M	Shallow, high-apex vee that does not descend to the baseline. Reads as a wide, calm letter rather than a pointed one.
The final D	Mirrored. This is the mark's signature and is deliberate. Anyone "correcting" it has destroyed the mark.
The S	Open aperture, near-horizontal terminals, no spur.

WHY IT IS ARTWORK AND NOT TYPE

The letterforms carry corrections that no typeface will reproduce: the mirrored D, the tracking, the apex of the M, the terminal angles on the S. A retype gets close enough to look right on a phone and wrong on a foil-stamped box, which is the exact surface the brand is judged on.

The one rule beneath every other
Never let anyone — a designer, a printer, a partner, or a generative model — set, redraw, trace or vectorize this mark. It is placed as supplied artwork, at supplied proportions, or it is not placed.

MACHINED INTO A STAINLESS LID. THE MARK SURVIVES THIS SURFACE ONLY BECAUSE IT IS MONOLINE AND FLAT-TERMINATED.

APPROVED COLORWAYS

Signal Ivory	On Cosmic Black, Coffee Bean, Black Cherry, Smoked Green. The default.
Cosmic Black	On Signal Ivory and Alabaster Grey. Editorial and administrative.
Crown Gold	Ceremony tier, foil and embossing only. Never as screen text.
Mirror Silver	Performance tier, foil and machining only.

2.2 – CLEAR SPACE, SCALE AND PLACEMENT

HOW MUCH ROOM IT NEEDS

CLEAR SPACE

The measure is the cap height of the mark. Call it X. No other element — type, image edge, rule, product, page trim — enters a zone of 2X on every side. On a cluttered photographic ground the zone is 3X.

INNER DASH: THE MARK'S BOUNDING BOX · OUTER DASH: THE PROTECTED ZONE

MINIMUM SIZES

SURFACE	MINIMUM WIDTH
Screen	160 px – Edition 02, p.24
Print, offset or digital	32 mm
Foil, emboss or deboss	40 mm – hairlines fill below this
Machined or engraved metal	28 mm, tool-radius permitting
Video end frame	18 percent of frame width

PLACEMENT

- Packaging. Centered on the primary face, in the upper third, with the variant name set well beneath it in the house sans. The hierarchy is always mark first, variant second, function third.
- Editorial and social. Top-centered, small, in the header band. It labels the page; it does not compete with the headline.
- Photography. Only where a real surface would carry it — a vessel, a pouch, a box, a printed poster in frame. Never floated over a photograph as a graphic.
- Video. End frame only, centered on Cosmic Black, held two seconds. Never as a persistent bug in the corner.

OUT OF HOME. THE MARK READS AT DISTANCE BECAUSE THE TRACKING AND THE CLEAR SPACE WERE RESPECTED.

MACHINED INTO A GOLD BASE. CEREMONY TIER, FOIL AND METAL ONLY.

If it will not fit

The mark is not tightened, condensed or shrunk below the minimum to make it fit. The layout changes. On surfaces too small for the mark at minimum — a sachet, a stick pack, a pin — the surface carries no mark at all and identity is carried by color, material and the variant name.

2.3 – THE FLAG

TWO MARKS ARE LIVE IN MARKET RIGHT NOW

FOUNDER DECISION REQUIRED

The single largest unresolved identity issue in the business, and it is written nowhere in Edition 02. Product shipping to customers today carries a mark the World Bible's own rules would prohibit. Nothing below asks for a reprint of warehouse stock. It asks for one decision, dated.

A • The refined mark

LOCKED

Monoline hairline, wide tracking, mirrored D. On the drinkware, the gift box, the chocolate, the retail fixture and every Edition 02 plate. The mark the World Bible describes.

B • The legacy mark

SUPERSEDED IN PART

Heavier, tighter, paired with a lightning-form S monogram on a brighter red. This is on the pouches customers receive this month. A different brand argument: energy rather than composure.

C • The retail-era artwork

PROHIBITED

Racing Red field, cartoon figures, benefit callouts ringed around the pack. Prohibited under Edition 02's mascot rule and quiet-authority doctrine. Do not reorder in any format.

WHY THIS CANNOT STAY UNRESOLVED

Every asset from today forward has to show a package. If the package in the photograph does not match the one in the customer's hand, the brand pays for the confusion twice — in production, then in returns and support.

THE RECOMMENDED RESOLUTION

- 01 Mark A is the brand. Confirm in writing, dated, this quarter.
- 02 Sell through existing stock unchanged. No pulping, no relabeling, no write-off. The 150-plus backordered units ship as printed.
- 03 Mark A applies at the next print run and to every new SKU from today.
- 04 Mark C is retired immediately for all new artwork, including marketplace and affiliate creative, which costs nothing to change.
- 05 Gap-period photography rule. Campaign photography shows Mark A. Commerce photography — product pages, marketplace listings — shows what actually ships, stated on the register so nobody guesses.

WHAT IS STILL PENDING ON MARK A

ITEM	STATUS
Production vector	Outlined, correctly sized, in a locked master file with no live text. Until this exists, nothing can legally print.
Trademark review	Search and filing on the wordmark as drawn.
Metal engraving test	Tool-radius test on the lid and base at 28 mm.

The cost of not deciding

Every week without this call produces assets that will need to be remade. At two shoot days a week, the remake cost compounds faster than the reprint cost being avoided. This is a one-meeting decision that protects every dollar spent between now and the quarterly review.

2.4 – MISUSE

TWELVE THINGS THAT DESTROY THE MARK

Each of these has appeared in a real brand's asset library at some point in its first two years. Naming them makes them refusable without a debate.

01 Retyped in any typeface, however close	02 Stretched, condensed or scaled non-proportionally	03 Tracking tightened or opened to fit a space	04 The mirrored D "corrected" to a normal D
05 Outlined, stroked, or given a drop shadow	06 Set in a color outside the approved list	07 Placed on a busy photograph without a scrim or clear zone	08 Rotated, arced, or set on a path
09 Locked up with a tagline as one artwork	10 Reproduced below the minimum width	11 Generated, traced or upscaled by a model	12 Used as a repeating pattern or watermark field

2.5 – THE S SYMBOL

PROHIBITED IN PUBLIC

A standalone S monogram exists in the legacy system and appears on current pouches. Edition 02 prohibits the standalone symbol in public use, and this addendum does not reopen that.

It has one legitimate future: the favicon and app tile, where the full wordmark is illegible at 32 pixels. That is a real problem with only three answers — a redrawn monogram consistent with Mark A, a plain S in the display face, or the full mark cropped to the first letter. The founder picks one at the quarterly. Until then the favicon carries a solid Black Cherry field and no letter at all, which is honest and costs nothing.

LEGACY SYSTEM: THE LIGHTNING-FORM S MONOGRAM ON THE TIER POUCHES. SUPERSEDED IN PART; SEE 2.3.

2.6 – LOCKUPS AND PARTNERSHIPS

- Never merged. The Supermind mark is never combined with another brand's mark into a single artwork.
- Separated by a rule. Co-branding sets both marks on a common baseline, optically matched in weight, divided by a hairline rule with clear space of 2X on both sides.
- Order. Supermind sits left when Supermind is the host, right when it is the guest. That is the only signal of who is hosting, and it is enough.
- Never a tagline lockup. Lines such as "Clarity is the luxury" are typeset copy, not artwork, and are never permanently attached to the mark.
- Creator and affiliate use. Affiliates receive the mark as supplied artwork with this misuse page attached. They may place it; they may not modify it.

Distribution

One locked master folder holds every approved file: vector in two colorways, transparent PNG at three sizes, foil-ready outline, and this misuse page as a PDF. Anyone who needs the mark receives the folder. Nobody receives a screenshot of the mark, ever, for any reason.

2.7 – THE MARK IN APPLICATION

WHAT CORRECT LOOKS LIKE

Reference plates. In every one of these the mark is placed as artwork, sized above its minimum, given its clear space, and carried by a real surface rather than floated over an image.

What these plates prove. The identity does not depend on a logo being large. It depends on the mark being consistent, the material real, and the surrounding space disciplined. In every plate the wordmark occupies well under a tenth of the frame, and the brand is unmistakable.

Restraint, precision and space create presence.

QUIET AUTHORITY – EDITION 02, P.09

TYPOGRAPHY

Edition 02 names four families and assigns each a role. It does not set the sizes, the pairing rules, the hierarchy, or what happens on a surface where none of the four are licensed. Four families, four jobs, and a hard rule against a fifth.

01 · DISPLAY — CAMPAIGN HEADLINES

CLARITY IS THE LUXURY

02 · EDITORIAL SERIF — THE THESIS

Attention is a biological asset.

03 · HOUSE SANS — BODY AND CAPTION

Built for the hours when clarity becomes action. Lion's mane and cordyceps in a coffee that tastes like something you would drink anyway, prepared as a ritual rather than taken as a dose.

04 · MONO — SOURCES, LABELS, TECHNICAL

NET WT. 8.8 OZ (250G) / LOT 0426 / SOURCE: J. NUTR. 2019;149(4)

3.1 – THE STACK

FOUR FAMILIES, FOUR JOBS

TWO OF FOUR PENDING LICENSE

ROLE	DOES	NEVER DOES
Display CAMPAIGN	Campaign headlines, out of home, title cards, section openers. All capitals, four to twelve words, tight leading.	Body copy. Captions. Anything below 18pt. Sentence case.
Editorial serif THESIS	The single governing idea on a text cover. Long-form article headings. Pull quotes.	UI. Buttons. Labels. Running body text at small sizes.
House sans BODY	Body copy, captions, product descriptions, subtitles, email, web UI, packaging variant names.	Campaign headlines. It supports; it does not announce.
Mono TECHNICAL	Citations, sources, lot codes, net weights, status labels, data annotation, page furniture.	Anything a customer reads for pleasure. Never a headline.

THE HARD RULE

There is no fifth family. A script, a slab, a novelty face or a platform's default is a violation regardless of how good it looks in the moment. Where a family is unavailable, the fallback stack in 3.4 applies — not a substitution chosen by whoever is building the asset.

PAIRING

- One display line per asset. Never two display headlines in the same frame.
- Display and editorial serif do not share a frame as headline and subhead. Pick which voice is speaking.
- Every serif thesis line gets a sans support line beneath it, at roughly a third the size, or it gets nothing.
- Mono never carries meaning a customer needs. If a reader must have it, it is set in the house sans.

EDITORIAL SERIF CARRYING THE THESIS, HOUSE SANS CARRYING THE SUPPORT LINE BENEATH.

DISPLAY FACE, ALL CAPS, ON PHOTOGRAPHY. EIGHT WORDS, THREE LINES, TIGHT LEADING.

HOUSE SANS AND MONO DOING TECHNICAL WORK. NO DISPLAY FACE ANYWHERE IN THE FRAME.

3.2 – SCALE AND HIERARCHY

THE SIZES, WRITTEN DOWN

SOCIAL, 1080 × 1350

ELEMENT	SIZE	SETTING
Display headline	88–140 px	All caps, leading 0.92, tracking 0.02em, max 3 lines
Serif thesis	72–110 px	Sentence case, leading 1.12, max 4 lines
Support line	26–32 px	House sans, leading 1.4, max 2 lines
Caption in frame	22–26 px	House sans or mono
Source or citation	18–20 px	Mono, tracking 0.1em
Header wordmark	160–220 px wide	Top center, artwork only

WEB AND EMAIL

Page headline	44–72 px
Section heading	24–32 px
Body	17–19 px, leading 1.6, measure 60–75 characters
Caption and label	13–14 px
Button	15–16 px, tracking 0.08em, all caps

PACKAGING

Wordmark	32 mm minimum, upper third, centered
Variant name	18–24 percent of wordmark width, tracking 0.2em
Function line	6–7 pt, house sans, sentence case
Net weight and lot	5.5–6 pt, mono
Disclaimer	6 pt minimum, never below the contrast floor

COMPOSITION RULES

- One governing idea per frame. If two ideas want the same asset, they are two assets.
- Type sits on a grid. Twelve columns, 64 px margins on a 1080 frame. Copy aligns left or centers on the frame; it does not float.
- Copy never crosses a face. On a portrait, type sits in the negative space the photograph already provides, or the photograph was shot wrong.
- Scrims are flat. Where type must sit on a busy image, use a flat Cosmic Black field at 55–70 percent, never a gradient blur.
- No orphans, no widows, no hyphenation in display or serif settings. Line breaks are set by hand.
- Punctuation is typographic. Real apostrophes and quotation marks, en dashes in ranges, no double spaces, no exclamation marks anywhere.
- Numerals. Lining figures in display and mono, oldstyle in the editorial serif where the family offers them.

DATA SET ENTIRELY IN MONO AND HOUSE SANS. NO DISPLAY FACE. THE CHART IS THE HEADLINE.

The legibility floor beats the layout

Any type that falls below the contrast minimums in Part Four gets a background change, not a color change to something prettier. A beautiful unreadable caption is a failed asset.

3.4 – LICENSING AND FALLBACKS

WHAT TO SET WHEN THE LICENSE ISN'T BOUGHT YET

Four licensed families against a lean budget is one of the eight open decisions in this addendum. Until it is resolved, work still ships. This section makes the interim legal, consistent and reversible.

ROLE	PRIORITY	INTERIM FALLBACK
Display	LICENSE FIRST	A geometric condensed sans, all caps, tracking increased 0.02em. Never a default system condensed.
House sans	LICENSE SECOND	A neutral grotesque with a real light and semibold. This is the workhorse; it is the second purchase, not the fourth.
Editorial serif	DEFER	A high-contrast open-licence didone. Widely available, and the thesis lines it sets are few.
Mono	DEFER	Any open-licence grotesque mono. Its job is technical, and nobody reads it for pleasure.

THE RULES THAT SURVIVE A FALLBACK

- The roles never change, only the faces filling them.
- All-caps display, sentence-case serif, and mono for technical work hold regardless.
- The sizes and tracking in 3.2 hold regardless.
- A fallback is recorded on the asset in the register, so a relicense can find and remake what needs remaking.
- Web fonts are self-hosted when licensed. No third-party font CDN calls on the storefront.

THE ECONOMICS

Two families licensed properly beats four families used improperly. A desktop and web license for a display face and a workhorse sans is the smallest purchase that makes every asset in this document producible, and it is materially cheaper than the reshoots that inconsistent typography causes.

A NINE-POST FIELD. THREE TEXT COVERS, FOUR PHOTOGRAPHIC, TWO RESEARCH. NO FRAME CARRIES TWO DISPLAY LINES.

Type in the feed

Look at the field, not the post. The rhythm is what a customer actually experiences: a thesis, a photograph, a data object, a product, a person. Typography is the connective tissue that makes nine separate images read as one publication.

4.1 – THE PALETTE IN MATERIAL

COLOR IS A MATERIAL DECISION

Edition 02 sets the values. What it does not say is that every one of them was chosen for how it behaves on a physical surface. Black Cherry is not a screen color that happens to print; it is oxblood leather, anodized metal and coated board that happen to have a hex value.

THE METALLIC HIERARCHY

METAL	MEANS	LIVES ON
Crown Satin Gold	Inheritance	Large surfaces in the ceremony tier – the flask, the tin band, the gift box foil.
Crown Mirror Gold	Inheritance, accented	Edges, rims, engraved marks. Never a full surface.
Mirror Silver	Precision	The performance tier – machined lids, the creatine pack, laboratory surfaces.

When gold and silver share a scene, one owns roughly seventy percent of the metallic presence. An even split reads as indecision, and indecision is the one thing this brand cannot afford to look like.

RACING RED

Racing Red is a signal, not a color scheme. It appears as a rule, a dot, a single button, a status chip – areas measured in square millimeters. Any asset where Racing Red is the dominant field belongs to the retail-era system and is superseded.

THE VESSEL FAMILY. GOLD CEREMONIAL, SILVER PERFORMANCE, BLACK DAILY, OXBLOOD COFFEEHOUSE. ONE MATERIAL ARGUMENT PER OBJECT.

GOLD BAND ON COSMIC BLACK. CEREMONY MARKING A PERFORMANCE PRODUCT – THE EXCEPTION, AND IT IS DELIBERATE.

4.3 – ADDED STANDARD

LEGIBILITY AND EXPORT MINIMUMS

PREFERRED

Edition 02 governs tone-on-tone contrast for packaging at ten to fifteen percent lightness. It sets no minimum for digital legibility. These values close that gap.

CONTRAST MINIMUMS

USE	MINIMUM RATIO

Headlines 18pt and above	3 : 1
Captions and technical labels	4.5 : 1
Wordmark on photography	3 : 1 against the local field
Decorative tone-on-tone	Exempt. Must carry no required information.

The combination to avoid

Black Cherry #55100D on Cosmic Black #111111 is not legible for text. It is a valid material pairing for embossing, engraving and tone-on-tone fields where nothing must be read. It is prohibited for body copy, captions, claims and any call to action.

The alt-text rule

Every published image carries alt text describing the behavior first, the environment second and the product last, in that order. It follows the same law as the frame itself: the behavior carries the brand.

THE REFERENCE SET

Three brands are doing something Supermind needs and has not yet built. This part names what each one actually does, what to take, what to leave, and what the Supermind translation is — so the reference stops being a mood and becomes a specification.

01

DAVID

The visual argument. Bold, dramatic, sculptural, one idea per frame. Taste and feel over feature lists. Bodies as evidence.

02

CHAMBERLAIN COFFEE

The creator engine. The founder is the audience. Personality carries the product; community carries the repeat purchase.

03

MAGIC MIND

The story and affiliate machine. Mechanism explained, profiles published, referral economics engineered into the product.

A NOTE ON HOW THIS SECTION IS ILLUSTRATED

Every plate in this part is Supermind's own work. The reference brands are described in words and analysed by structure rather than reproduced, because their imagery is their property and this is a controlled document that will be shared with crew, creators and partners. The point is not to look at theirs. It is to see what ours looks like once the lesson is applied.

5.1 – THE VISUAL ARGUMENT

DAVID: DRAMA, ONE IDEA, AND THE BODY AS EVIDENCE

David is the closest reference for how Supermind should look and feel, and the furthest from how Supermind should behave. Reading it precisely is what separates a useful reference from an imitation.

WHAT THEY ACTUALLY DO

ELEMENT	THE MOVE
One idea per frame	A single object, a single number, a single claim. No supporting cast, no lifestyle clutter, nothing to read second.
Hard, committed light	One dramatic source with real shadow. The product is lit like architecture or sculpture rather than like food.
Sculptural product	The bar is shot as a monolith — scaled up, centered, physical. It reads as an object with mass, not a snack.
Taste and feel, not features	The language is about how it eats and how it performs, delivered in flat numeric confidence rather than adjectives.
The body as proof	Lean, trained, near-classical physiques presented as the visible evidence that the product belongs to a serious practice.
Documentary profiles	Real people — athletes, trainers, working professionals — filmed inside their actual routine rather than performing one.
Less is more	Enormous restraint in the layout, then total confidence in the one thing that is left.

WHAT SUPERMIND TAKES

- The courage of the single idea. Edition 02 already requires it. David proves it sells.
- Hard-light sculptural product photography. This is Luxury Laboratory with the shadow turned up.
- Taste and feel as the subject. How the coffee tastes and how the hour feels beats any ingredient list.
- Numeric confidence where the number is real. A stated dose is more persuasive than an adjective, and it is claims-safe.
- The physique standard. Edition 02 already asks for in-shape, composed, capable subjects. That is the same standard, arrived at independently.
- The documentary profile. The single most transferable format in the reference set. Specified in 5.3.

ONE OBJECT, ONE LIGHT SOURCE, REAL SHADOW. THE SUPERMIND READING OF THE DAVID FRAME.

SCULPTURAL, SCALED, PHYSICAL. THE PRODUCT AS AN OBJECT WITH MASS.

WHAT SUPERMIND LEAVES

- Explicit body display as the hook
- Gym-supplement register and macro-count culture
- Cold, clinical white grounds
- Confrontational, provocation-led copy

5.2 – THE TRANSLATION

THEY ARE SEXY BY EXPLICITNESS. WE ARE SEXY BY SOPHISTICATION.

This is the single most important sentence in the reference set, and it needs a working definition, because "sophisticated" is the kind of word a team nods at and then ignores at the shoot. Here is what it means in practice, at the frame level.

SOPHISTICATION IS WHAT IS WITHHELD

EXPLICIT	SOPHISTICATED
The body displayed	The body implied — posture, line, the way clothing sits
Skin as the subject	Skin as light — a collarbone, a jaw, a hand, a nape
Eye contact that solicits	Eye contact that assesses, or a subject unaware of the camera
Undressed	Dressed extremely well, and one thing undone
The invitation stated	The invitation withheld — the viewer leans in
Bright, flat, total	Half in shadow, one committed source, detail preserved
Volume	Stillness

THE OPERATING RULE

Desire in this brand comes from competence, composure and restraint — never from exposure. The most magnetic frame Supermind can produce is a person entirely in control of themselves, extremely well dressed, half-lit, doing something difficult without strain. That reads as power. Power is the thing the audience actually wants.

THE THREE TESTS

- 01 Would she post this about herself? If the primary subject would not put this frame on her own page, it is being taken rather than given.
- 02 Does it survive the sound off and the product removed? If the only thing holding the frame is the body, there is no brand in it.
- 03 Is anything actually revealed? If nothing is withheld, nothing was composed.

COMPOSURE AS THE SUBJECT. DRESSED, LIT FROM ONE SIDE, HALF IN SHADOW, ENTIRELY IN CONTROL OF THE FRAME.

ATTENTION AS THE EROTIC OBJECT. NOBODY IS PERFORMING FOR THE CAMERA AND THE FRAME IS STRONGER FOR IT.

What this protects

The primary audience is a Black woman between twenty-five and forty who has been marketed to explicitly her entire adult life. Sophistication is not prudishness. It is the recognition that she is the buyer, not the subject being sold, and that the brand which understands the difference is the one she keeps.

5.3 – CHAMBERLAIN COFFEE AND MAGIC MIND

THE CREATOR ENGINE AND THE STORY MACHINE

David solves how it looks. These two solve how it grows. Supermind has the rarest input either of them had to manufacture: a founder who is already a creator with an audience that trusts him on exactly this subject.

CHAMBERLAIN COFFEE – THE CREATOR ENGINE

THE MOVE	SUPERMIND TRANSLATION
The founder is the audience. She drinks it on camera because she actually drinks it.	Keys is on camera inside his own morning, not presenting a product. The ritual is the content.
Personality carries the product. The brand has a voice before it has a claim.	Ours is composed rather than playful, but the principle holds: the voice arrives before the ingredient list.
Community has a name and objects. Merch and characters make membership visible.	High Lvl Club is the membership. The vessel is the object. Owning the cup is the visible signal.

What we leave: mascots, bright flat color, meme register, and any humor that undercuts authority.

MAGIC MIND – THE STORY MACHINE

THE MOVE	SUPERMIND TRANSLATION
Mechanism is the content. They explain what each ingredient does and why, constantly.	The research and editorial thirds of the feed already carry this. It becomes the most repeatable content we own.
Profiles of high performers. Real routines, published as a series.	The documentary profile format in 5.4. Ours is the strongest possible version because our people are more interesting.
Referral engineered into the product. Affiliates and creators are a channel, not a favor.	The affiliate program on Whop, owned by B. Amechi with eight staff hours weekly, built on the tiered structure already scoped.

What we leave: urgency-driven referral spam, discount-stacked landing pages, and any claim that outruns the evidence.

MECHANISM AS CONTENT. THE RESEARCH FIELD IS THE MOST REPEATABLE THING THE BRAND OWNS AND THE CHEAPEST TO PRODUCE.

The advantage nobody else in this set has

Chamberlain had to build a beverage brand onto an existing audience. Magic Mind had to manufacture credibility through borrowed voices. Supermind has a founder whose audience already comes to him for exactly this subject, and a manager who can build the machine around it. The gap is not audience or credibility. It is a published format and a schedule.

THE THREE FORMATS TO BUILD FIRST

01 The profile. A person, their routine, their room. Specified opposite. 02 The mechanism. One ingredient, what it does, what it does not yet prove, the citation. 03 The room. The hike, the table, the mastermind — documented, not staged.

5.4 – THE PRODUCIBLE SPEC

THE DOCUMENTARY PROFILE

PREFERRED – FLAGSHIP FORMAT

One format, borrowed from the strongest thing in the reference set and rebuilt in the Supermind register. Authentic people living the life of the brand, filmed inside their real routine. It is the highest-trust content the brand can make and the cheapest to produce well.

THE SUBJECT

Not an influencer. A person whose life already demonstrates the thesis: a surgeon, a chef, a trainer, a portfolio manager, a novelist, a barrister, a founder. Cast to the ratio in Appendix A.5. They must already have a morning practice; the product joins it rather than replacing it.

THE STRUCTURE – SIX TO NINE MINUTES

BEAT	CONTENT
00:00	Cold open. Ritual only, no dialogue. The pour, the room, the light. Foley forward.
00:30	They say their own name and what they do, once, plainly.
01:00	The morning, in real time. Unnarrated where possible.
05:00	The cost. What they gave up, got wrong, or nearly broke.
07:00	The Turn. One question, answered to camera. The most clipped moment in every episode.
08:00	End frame. Wordmark on Cosmic Black. No offer, no link, no icons.

THE RULE THAT MAKES IT AUTHENTIC

The product appears at most twice and is never mentioned by name on camera. It is on the counter because it is on their counter. Any subject who cannot be filmed without the product being handed to them is the wrong subject.

PRODUCTION

- Half a day, two crew. Camera A locked wide on 35 or 50mm, Camera B handheld vertical for pickups.
- Practical light first. Bounce and negative fill only. Nothing that announces a crew was there.
- Sound is the budget line. Lav, room tone, dedicated foley passes. Bad sound reads as fake faster than bad picture.
- Score enters late. Classical primary, jazz for archive rooms, per C.3.

WHAT ONE PROFILE DAY YIELDS

1 profile film, 6–9 min · 6 verticals with hooks pre-written · 30 stills for the feed · 1 written profile for email · 2 quote graphics · 1 ad cut, the strongest 15 seconds.

CADENCE

One per month, twelve a year, as a named series. Long form on YouTube and the site; verticals seed the feed for three weeks; the written profile carries the email; the subject shares their own episode, which is the distribution model and costs nothing.

Why this format and not another

It scores on every axis the brand is short of at once: it casts to the audience ratio, it produces the plants-and-people frames the feed law requires, it generates the copy library from real speech, and it gives affiliates and creators something to share that is not an ad.

A

AUDIENCE AND CASTING RATIO

Edition 02 defines who appears in the frame. This appendix defines who the frame is for, and makes the balance structural instead of aspirational.

A.1 – WHY THIS APPENDIX EXISTS

THE DOCUMENT NEVER NAMES THE BUYER

LOCKED ON ADOPTION

Edition 02 governs casting, wardrobe, behavior, environment and grade. Across eighty-seven pages it does not describe a single customer. Casting governs the subject inside the frame. Audience governs who the frame is aimed at. Without the second, every content decision downstream becomes a judgment call.

Balance women and men across generations.

WORLD BIBLE EDITION 02, P.54 – THE PRINCIPLE

The principle is written. The mechanism is not. A rule with no ratio behind it does not survive a fast production week, and the release gate has no way to score it. Section A.5 supplies the mechanism.

THE TENSION WORTH NAMING OUT LOUD

The doctrine is masculine-coded at the root: James Bond, Malcolm X, divine masculine that attracts feminine. The founder's reference set leans the same way. Meanwhile, in wellness and functional nutrition, women make the clear majority of purchases — for themselves and for the household — and Black women are among the most decisive, highest-intent buyers in the category. They are also the people already showing up to the hikes, the sound baths and the masterminds.

If the imagery keeps speaking to men while women do the buying, content and revenue drift apart quarter after quarter. This appendix resolves that without weakening anything the founder authored.

ALREADY IN THE WORK. THE SUBJECT THE BUSINESS IS BUILT AROUND, IN THE REGISTER THE DOCTRINE DESCRIBES.

THE CORRECTION

Supermind's aesthetic register stays exactly as written. What changes is who the register is aimed at, and how often she leads the frame.

WHAT EDITION 02 ALREADY SUPPORTS

- p.54 requires balance across women, men and generations
- p.54 requires people who read as intelligent, healthy, capable, socially connected
- p.19 centers gathering, hospitality and care
- p.10 centers Black intellectual life as a responsibility

Every one of those points toward the customer named on the next page. Appendix A is an enforcement layer on rules that already exist.

A.2 – THE PRIMARY SUBJECT

SHE IS THE CENTER OF THE FRAME AND THE CUSTOMER FILE.

WHO SHE IS

Black women, roughly 25 to 40. Professionals, founders, creatives, practitioners, mothers, students of their own discipline. She treats her mind as her primary asset and her body as the instrument that carries it. She is composed, in shape, put together. She reads as someone who has already decided how she wants to live.

WHAT SHE IS SOLVING FOR

- Clarity that lasts through the hours that actually matter
- Energy without the crash, the jitter or the dependency
- A morning that belongs to her before it belongs to anyone else
- Longevity treated as a practice rather than a panic
- Rooms and rituals where intelligence is the social currency

WHAT SHE WILL NOT TOLERATE

- Being marketed to as a problem to be fixed
- Wellness that reads as escape rather than capacity
- Hustle language and manufactured urgency
- Blackness used as texture instead of context
- Anything that tastes like obligation

WHERE SHE ALREADY IS

Instagram

Saves and shares before she buys. Carousels and stills outperform trends. The comments are the research.

Long form

YouTube and podcasts while she works, trains or drives. Where the founder voice does the most work.

The room

Hikes, sound baths, dinners, masterminds. Highest conversion, highest retention, hardest to scale.

Her group chat

No analytics, highest trust. Everything else exists to earn a place in it.

THE PURCHASE TRUTH

First purchase

Taste and trust. She buys because someone she respects vouched, and stays because it tastes good.

Converts to subscription

The ritual holding for three consecutive weeks.

Makes her bring people

The room. The hike, the table, the gathering.

Loses her

Inconsistent supply, and any claim bigger than the evidence.

The one-line brief

She is not looking for a supplement. She is assembling a life where her attention is the most protected thing she owns, and she wants the objects on her counter to say so.

A.3 – THE FULL CAST OF THE WORLD

SECONDARY AND SUPPORTING SUBJECTS

Naming a primary subject does not narrow the world. It orders it. Every group below belongs in Supermind and each carries a defined share.

01

The primary

Black women, 25–40. Leads campaigns, product, ritual and the majority of frames containing people. The customer file is built around her.

02

The secondary

Black men, 25–40. Carries discipline, training, study and the founder-voiced register. Present, aspirational, never the default.

03

The lineage

Elders, 55+. Anchors Analog Archive world-building and intergenerational scenes. Dignified, central to the room, never decorative.

RECONCILING THE ASPIRATIONAL CAST WITH P.54

CONTEXT	WHO LEADS
Campaign and product	Primary and secondary, 25–40
Ritual in Motion	Primary and secondary, 18–40
Analog Archive	Full generational range, elders welcome and expected
Gathering and institution	Intergenerational by default
Luxury Laboratory	Product-led; hands and practitioners of any age

NON-NEGOTIABLE

Every person on camera is visibly eighteen or older, without exception. Supermind carries CBD-adjacent products; no subject who could read as a minor is acceptable in brand imagery.

WIDER DIVERSITY

Per Edition 02 p.10: welcome wider diversity naturally without weakening the cultural center. Non-Black subjects appear as guests in a world that is unmistakably Black-led — never as the face of a campaign.

THE CASTING BRIEF, AS ISSUED TO A PRODUCER

SUPERMIND CASTING BRIEF

Black, African, African-American, mixed and brown women and men, 25 to 40, visibly adult. In shape, composed, put together. They read as intelligent, healthy, capable and socially connected.

Women lead. Natural hair and real skin texture preserved. Wardrobe in black, ivory, tobacco, oxblood, charcoal or dark green. Restrained metal jewelry.

No influencer posing. No biohacker sterility. No tokenism. The expression is relaxed authority, never excitement.

Never use Blackness as texture, shorthand or corporate symbolism.

A.5 – THE MECHANISM

THE CASTING RATIO

LOCKED ON ADOPTION

A principle that cannot be scored will not survive a production week. These three rules make representation measurable at the frame, the month and the quarter.

RULE ONE – FRAME LEVEL

In any nine-frame worldboard, women lead a minimum of half of all frames containing people.

"Lead" means the subject whose behavior the frame is about.

A compliant board. Six frames carry people: four led by women, one by a man, one intergenerational. Plants visible in three frames per Edition 02 p.37. Product dominant in two.

RULE TWO – CAMPAIGN LEVEL

Across any rolling thirty days, women lead a minimum of fifty-five percent of published assets featuring a person. Measured against the archive, not against intent.

RULE THREE – FLAGSHIP LEVEL

Each quarter, at least one long-form series or campaign film is led by a woman. A quarter in which every flagship piece is male-led fails the appendix.

ADDED TO THE FINAL ASSET SCORE

Edition 02 p.73 scores ten categories from zero to two and requires seventeen of twenty. This appendix adds an eleventh category, raising the requirement to nineteen of twenty-two.

SCORE CASTING RATIO

2	Meets the frame ratio and the subject reads as the primary audience
1	Meets the ratio but the casting is generic to the category
0	Fails the ratio, or the primary audience is absent from a people-led set

EXEMPTIONS

- Founder-voiced content is exempt at frame level, still counts monthly
- Product-only, material and nature frames carry no casting obligation
- Documentary coverage of a real event is logged, not scored

HOW IT GETS REPORTED

Per asset Score entered at the release gate. Nothing releases below nineteen of twenty-two.

Monthly Share of people-led assets led by women, against the fifty-five percent floor.

Quarterly Ratio held against the customer file from A.7, next to Non-Founder Revenue.

A.7 – VALIDATION PROTOCOL

PROVE IT WITH THE CUSTOMER FILE

PENDING DATA

Appendix A is a strategic position until the customer data confirms it. Everything needed to settle the question already exists inside the business and one action item already on the team's list.

THE FIVE PULLS

- 01 Shopify customer export. Gender inference and age band across all buyers, and separately across the active subscriber base.
- 02 The paused cohort. Same split, plus reason for pausing where captured. The cheapest revenue in the business and the clearest signal about who was almost retained.
- 03 Top twenty customers by lifetime value. Already an open action item. Call each one. Record who she is, what she buys, why she started, what nearly stopped her.
- 04 Event attendance. The hike and Invest Fest email captures, split the same way.
- 05 Instagram audience. Follower gender and age from native analytics, held against the buyer file.

THE QUESTION EACH PULL ANSWERS

Whether the people buying, subscribing, attending and following are the same people the imagery has been speaking to. Where those diverge is the exact size of the opportunity Appendix A is written to capture.

Owner and cadence

Owner: B. Amechi, with operations support on the export.

First run: before the quarterly review.

Cadence: re-pulled each quarter, reported alongside Non-Founder Revenue.

HOW THE FINDING CHANGES THE RATIO

IF THE BUYER FILE SHOWS	THEN
Women above 60%	Adopt the ratio as written and raise the monthly floor to 60%
Women 45–60%	Adopt exactly as written
Women below 45%	Adopt the frame rule, hold the monthly floor at 50%, and treat the gap as an acquisition target rather than a reflection of who Supermind is for

In every case the frame-level rule stands. A brand that intends to grow into a market casts for the customer it wants, not only the one it already has.

THE ROOM IS THE HIGHEST-CONVERTING CHANNEL IN THE BUSINESS AND THE LEAST MEASURED. THE EMAIL CAPTURE AT THE DOOR IS THE CHEAPEST DATA THE BRAND WILL EVER BUY.

*Ancestral knowledge can guide the question.
Evidence governs the public claim.*

WORLD BIBLE EDITION 02, P.18 – APPLIED HERE TO OURSELVES

B

THE AI PROMPT SYSTEM

Edition 02 is written for a commissioned photographer.
This appendix makes the same laws promptable, and defines exactly which generated work may be published.

B.1 – PUBLISHING TIERS

WHAT GENERATED WORK MAY SHIP

PENDING FOUNDER APPROVAL

Edition 02 marks every generated image as internal art direction requiring a production reshoot (p.72). That standard protects the brand and, applied without a tier, it also stops the only production engine currently available at this budget. Three tiers so the protection survives and the work moves.

TIER 1 • PUBLISHABLE

PREFERRED

No human subject. Abstract fields, material studies, botanical macro, texture, light, research objects, ingredient forms. Publishable once the approved wordmark is composited.

TIER 2 • CONDITIONAL

PENDING PROOF

Product-adjacent scenes with no identifiable face — hands, silhouettes, over-shoulder, environments. Publishable when labeled in the register and never presented as documentary evidence of a real moment.

TIER 3 • INTERNAL ONLY

PROHIBITED FOR RELEASE

Any identifiable synthetic human. Concept development, art direction, pitch and reference. Requires a production reshoot before public release.

THE PERMANENT LINE

A synthetic human is never presented as a real person. No generated face carries a testimonial, a review, a customer story or an implied endorsement. That rule does not move, at any tier, for any campaign, under any deadline.

THE WORDMARK RULE

Never let a model draw the wordmark. Generative systems reliably corrupt letterforms, and Edition 02 p.21 forbids retyping, redrawing or tracing. Every prompt carries a negative instruction against text and lettering. The approved mark is composited in afterward, at the sizes specified in Part Two.

PACKAGING IN PROMPTS

Prompt packaging as unbranded with a blank label field, then composite the approved artwork. A generated approximation of a Supermind package is a Tier 3 asset and never reaches a customer.

REQUIRED ON EVERY GENERATED ASSET

- Asset identifier in the register
- Declared tier
- Prompt and model recorded
- Date and operator
- Replacement requirement if Tier 3

This mirrors the provenance table at Edition 02 p.72 and slots directly into it.

Why a tier and not a ban

At two shoot days a week the brand cannot photograph every ingredient macro, every material study and every abstract field it needs. A blanket ban does not produce more photography; it produces empty weeks. A tier produces both: real photography where a human appears, generated work where nothing human is at stake.

B.2 – ASSEMBLY

HOW TO BUILD A PROMPT

Write the scene in one or two sentences. Then append the blocks. Every prompt carries THE WORLD, COLOR AND LIGHT, one MODE and the NEGATIVE. Add CASTING whenever a person appears and PRODUCT whenever the product appears.

01 Your scene, one or two sentences	02 THE WORLD always	03 CASTING if people appear	04 COLOR AND LIGHT always
05 ONE OF FOUR MODES always	06 PRODUCT RULES if product appears	07 NEGATIVE PROMPT always	08 Declare the tier before release

BLOCK 01 – THE WORLD

LOCKED TEXT

SUPERMIND is cognitive luxury made tangible – a Black-led wellness house where composed intelligence is the highest form of status. Ancestral warmth and future precision coexist in one civilization: warm archive coffeehouses, luxury laboratory product scenes, plant-filled living intelligence, and ritual in motion – hikes, training, cacao ceremonies, bonfires, writing. The scene must look physically photographable: real light, real materials, real ecology. The world stays recognizable even when the product is absent. Quiet authority – restraint, precision and space create presence. No hype, no chaos, no costume nostalgia.

BLOCK 02 – CASTING

LOCKED TEXT

Black, African, African-American, mixed and brown women and men, ages 25 to 40, clearly adult, in shape, attractive and put together. Women lead the frame unless the brief states otherwise. They read as thinkers, builders, athletes, artists and hosts: intelligent, healthy, socially connected. Natural skin texture, real hair – locs, coils, waves, fades – no artificial smoothing. Composed expressions, relaxed authority rather than excitement. Wardrobe: tailoring, knitwear, natural fibers, quiet technical activewear in black, ivory, tobacco, oxblood, charcoal or dark green; restrained gold or silver jewelry; no fluorescent color, no loud prints, no wellness-uniform costume. For heritage and archive scenes only, elders may appear as part of intergenerational Black intellectual life – dignified, central, never decorative.

B.5 – THE REMAINING BLOCKS

BLOCK 03 – COLOR AND LIGHT LOCKED TEXT

Master palette: Black Cherry #55100D expressed as oxblood material, Coffee Bean #1A0706, Cosmic Black #111111, Signal Ivory #F1EEE7, Alabaster Grey #D9D9D9, Smoked Green #394439, Living Green #536B45, with Racing Red #DD0200 as a small signal accent only. Metals: Crown Satin Gold on large surfaces with Crown Mirror Gold accents, Mirror Silver for precision – when gold and silver share a scene one owns about seventy percent of the metallic presence. Gold means inheritance, silver means precision, black cherry means house identity. Light: one committed source – warm amber practicals at 3200 to 4200K in archive scenes, natural daylight in living scenes, controlled high-CRI soft sources for product. Shadows lean warm brown and burgundy, never gray. Blacks stay matte and retain detail. Highlights warm and cream-toned. Every reflection explains its source. Never a blanket orange filter, never neon, never flat even lighting.

BLOCK 04 – THE FOUR MODES PICK EXACTLY ONE

ANALOG ARCHIVE – the emotional center

Warm coffeehouses, libraries, writing tables, kitchens, records, garden chess, salons, bonfires. Honest 35mm character, 35 or 50mm lens, warm practicals, readable brown shadows, visible grain. Black intellectual life gathered around thought.

LUXURY LABORATORY

Product as precise cognitive artifact. Warm gold, mirror silver, smoked green, stone, marble, clear glass. 70 to 100mm or macro, f8 to f11, controlled highlights, revealed seams, grain and embossing, every edge and label legible.

LIVING INTELLIGENCE

Plants as cultivation, not decoration. Botanical coffeehouses, greenhouse research, ingredient cultivation, mature trees, natural daylight, believable greens: cacao, coffee, olive, fig, oak, ficus, palms, ferns, herbs. Never a decorative jungle.

RITUAL IN MOTION

Hikes at golden hour, gym strength work, cacao preparation, long-table gathering, journaling, bonfires at dusk. 28, 35 or 50mm, natural directional light, fast shutter, real motion, product inside the action rather than interrupting it.

BLOCK 05 – PRODUCT RULES

Product may be hero, tool, evidence or absent – the behavior carries the brand. Packaging: unbranded oxblood or black-cherry metallic pouches and wrappers with a completely blank label field, gold family for ceremony, mirror silver for performance. Reusable vessels are the visible standard: gold ceremonial, silver performance, oxblood ceramic coffeehouse, clear glass water. Never generic cups, disposable plastic bottles or third-party branded vessels. Never imply an absent ingredient.

BLOCK 06 – NEGATIVE PROMPT

No text, no lettering, no logos, no watermarks. No neon, no pastels, no blanket orange cast, no crushed blacks, no flat lighting, no gray shadows. No sepia nostalgia filter, no costume reenactment. No plastic foliage, fake plant walls or fantasy ecosystems. No mascots, exotic animals or staged wildlife. No alcohol, tobacco or intoxication. No influencer poses, biohacker sterility, artificial skin smoothing or generic wellness brightness. No one who reads as a minor. One intentional idea per frame.

B.9 — WORKED EXAMPLES

THREE ASSEMBLED PROMPTS

Each opens with the scene line, then appends the blocks named beneath it. Tier is declared before the asset enters the register. The plate above each is the target register, not the output.

Campaign still

SCENE

A woman in a silk wrap preparing cacao at a marble counter before sunrise, steam rising, her hands and the whisk in focus.

APPEND

WORLD + CASTING + COLOR AND LIGHT + RITUAL IN MOTION + PRODUCT + NEGATIVE

TIER 3 identifiable synthetic human. Art direction only. Reshoot required.

Product still

SCENE

An unbranded oxblood dropper bottle beside a gold vessel on green marble, olive branch shadow raking across the surface.

APPEND

WORLD + COLOR AND LIGHT + LUXURY LABORATORY + PRODUCT + NEGATIVE

TIER 1 no human subject. Publishable once the approved wordmark is composited.

Botanical macro

SCENE

Macro of lion's mane and cacao on stone in a greenhouse, water on the leaf, shallow depth, morning daylight through glass.

APPEND

WORLD + COLOR AND LIGHT + LIVING INTELLIGENCE + NEGATIVE

TIER 1 real species, no implied ingredient claim. Publishable.

BEFORE ANY GENERATED ASSET RELEASES

- It passes the Same Timeline Test exactly as a photograph would
- Its tier is declared and recorded
- The wordmark is composited, never generated
- Packaging shown is approved artwork, never an approximation
- No claim is implied that the claims file does not support
- It scores nineteen of twenty-two on the extended asset score

Could this scene be physically produced?

THE FIRST QUESTION OF THE SAME TIMELINE TEST — IT APPLIES TO PROMPTS TOO

THE ONE HABIT THAT MAKES THIS WORK

Save the assembled prompt with the asset, not in a chat window. A prompt that produced a usable frame is a reusable production asset; a prompt lost in a scroll-back is a frame the brand has to invent twice.

C

MOTION AND SOUND

Edition 02 is entirely stills. Supermind TV is the media strategy. This appendix gives the moving image and the sonic identity the same governance the photograph already has.

C.1 – THE REGISTER

SLOW. DRAMATIC. COMPOSED.

PREFERRED

Supermind motion is unhurried and deliberately lit. One committed source, deep readable shadows, long holds punctuated by a single decisive cut on the reveal. The film is about how the moment feels, never about how the product performs.

CAMERA

ELEMENT	STANDARD
Movement	Locked or gliding. Slider, gimbal or tripod. Never shaky, never whip-panned.
Hold length	Three to six seconds for narrative, one to two for a reveal.
Cut rhythm	Long, long, long, hard cut. Speed ramps reserved for drop films.
Frame rate	24 fps for narrative. 60 or 120 fps for pours, steam and motion inserts.
Lens	Follows the mode. 35 or 50mm in Archive, 70–100mm and macro in Laboratory, 28–50mm in Living and Ritual.
Grade	Identical law to stills. Warm brown shadows, matte blacks with detail, warm cream highlights, one crimson accent.

PROHIBITED IN MOTION

Shaky handheld as a style. Whip pans and speed-ramp transitions outside drop films. Zoom punches on the beat. Trend-driven text animation. Stock transitions. Countdown stickers. Anything that reads as urgency.

FORMATS

Long form	16:9, 24 fps
Vertical	9:16, safe 250 top / 320 bottom
Feed	4:5 or 1:1
Drop film	9:16 and 1:1, 15 to 30 seconds

THE FOUR MODES IN MOTION

RITUAL • HANDHELD PERMITTED, STILL DELIBERATE

LIVING • SLOW GLIDE, NATURAL SOUND

ARCHIVE • WARM PRACTICALS, ROOM TONE KEPT

LABORATORY • LOCKED MACRO, CONTROLLED LIGHT

The governing test

Play it with the sound off. If the frames still read as Supermind — the light, the materials, the composure — it passes. If it only works because of the music, it is not there yet.

Restraint, precision and space create presence.

QUIET AUTHORITY, APPLIED TO THE MOVING IMAGE

C.3 – THE SONIC IDENTITY

WHAT SUPERMIND SOUNDS LIKE

Classical is the primary register. Sparse strings and piano, unhurried, dramatic without swelling. It carries the same argument the doctrine makes: composure as status, thought as the subject.

THE THREE REGISTERS

REGISTER	USE
Classical — primary	Brand films, drop films, product, ceremony, campaign. Solo piano, cello, restrained string ensemble. Slow tempo, wide dynamic range, space between notes.
Jazz — alternate	Archive scenes, coffeehouse, gathering, conversation. Upright bass, brushed drums, muted horn. Warm, late, unhurried.
Foley only — the purist cut	Ritual inserts and macro product. No music at all. The pour, the stir, the cup on stone.

RITUAL FOLEY — ALWAYS FORWARD IN THE MIX

The pour. The stir against ceramic. The cup set down on stone. Pen on paper. A page turning. Fire crackle. Footfall on trail. Breath during training. These are brand assets and get recorded properly, not replaced with library effects.

MIX

- Dialogue and foley lead; music sits beneath, never competes
- Music enters after the first beat of action, never on the first frame
- No stingers, no risers, no whooshes on transitions
- Deliver at -14 LUFS for social, -16 LUFS for long form
- Every published video is legible with the sound off

PROHIBITED IN SOUND

Trap and drill beds as the default score. Trending audio used because it is trending. Corporate uplift. Synth risers and impact hits. Voice-of-god narration. Anything with an urgency arc.

FIRE CRACKLE, LOW CONVERSATION, NO SCORE. THE PURIST CUT IS OFTEN THE STRONGEST ONE.

Licensing

Every music cue carries a commercial license covering paid media and platform use, recorded in the asset register alongside the provenance fields at p.72. Trending platform audio is licensed only for organic use and never appears in a paid asset or a brand film.

TITLE CARDS AND TYPOGRAPHY IN MOTION

- Title card: Cosmic Black or Black Cherry field, display face all caps, held three seconds minimum, no animation beyond a slow fade
- Lower third: house sans, name over role, cream on a transparent scrim, no boxes or bars
- Subtitles: burned in on all vertical, house sans, cream with a subtle shadow, minimum 40 px on a 1080 frame, two lines maximum, never mid-frame
- End frame: wordmark centered on Cosmic Black, held two seconds, one line of copy maximum, no social icons
- Kinetic type: permitted only as a slow fade or a still cut. No typewriter effects, no word-by-word pop, no bounce

C.7 – PRODUCTION ECONOMICS

ONE SHOOT DAY, THE FULL ASSET SET

Motion governance only matters if motion gets made. This is the standing spec for a four-hour block with two crew, and the reason a single day can carry two weeks of publishing.

THE CAPTURE PLAN

BLOCK	WHAT IS CAPTURED
Set and light	Stone or walnut surface, matched vessels, product placed, backdrop lit. Set stills for the grid while dressing.
B-roll, 15 min	Pour, steam, hands, cup set down, product macro, room wide. No talent needed. This bank feeds six months of edits.
Cold open	Thirty seconds of pure ritual with no dialogue. Opens every cut.
Main	Uninterrupted conversation or demonstration. Camera A locked wide, Camera B vertical.
The Turn	The one question every episode ends on, delivered to camera. Historically the most clipped moment.
Pickups	Six verticals shot deliberately, each with its hook line written in advance.
Stills	Thirty frames minimum, portrait and product.
Wrap	Footage transferred and named on site before anyone leaves.

THE RULE THAT MAKES IT WORK

Nothing is shot without the cut plan written first. The editor receives a numbered list, not a folder. That single discipline is the difference between a full asset set and an archive nobody opens.

THE OUTPUT

1 Long-form episode, 22–28 min	6 Pre-hooked verticals	30 Stills, portrait and product
1 Reusable b-roll bank	2 Quote graphics from transcript	1 Ad cut, strongest 15 seconds

THE 15-SECOND DROP FILM

0:00	Hard-lit product or hand, one motion
0:03	The line. Four to eight words.
0:06	The ritual beat – pour, sip, close
0:11	Product held, still, two seconds

COPY LIBRARY AND CLAIMS

Edition 02 defines five voice qualities and one approved line. This appendix supplies the working library a writer can build from, and the regulatory language the product legally requires.

D.2 – THE APPROVED HEADLINE LIBRARY

TWENTY LINES THAT CARRY THE VOICE

PREFERRED

Four to twelve words, all caps in the display face for campaign use, sentence case in the editorial serif for thesis covers. Declarative. No exclamation marks. Rotate; never stack two in one asset.

CLARITY AND ATTENTION

- Clarity is the luxury.
- Attention is a biological asset.
- You don't get tired. You lose clarity.
- Protect the source of every decision.
- Build the mind before the day.

RITUAL AND DISCIPLINE

- Drink with intention.
- Discipline has a flavour.
- Start now. Always finish.
- The ritual holds.
- Rituals create freedom.

MECHANISM AND PROOF

- Caffeine borrows energy. Cordyceps builds it.
- Deep work has a physiology.
- The body ages. The mind can keep building.
- Your mind leaves signals.
- Built for the hours when clarity becomes action.

WORLD AND COMMUNITY

- Intelligence grows in community.
- A clear mind changes the room.
- Designed for minds that lead.
- Nature, refined by intention.
- The future belongs to the focused.

THE SAME LIBRARY, FOUR TREATMENTS. THE LINE DOES NOT CHANGE; THE VOICE CARRYING IT DOES.

WHERE EACH LINE GOES

Clarity and attention	Campaign headlines, hero frames, out of home, the top of the site.
Ritual and discipline	Product pages, subscription flows, packaging inserts, retention email.
Mechanism and proof	Editorial carousels, research posts, long-form descriptions, paid media where a claim carries the ad.
World and community	Events, gatherings, the club, founder-voiced content, partnerships.

D.3 – FORMULAS AND TEMPLATES

HOW EACH FORM IS WRITTEN

CAPTION FORMULAS BY CONTENT FORM

FORM	FORMULA
A · Editorial cover	Claim. One sentence of mechanism. One sentence of practice. Source line.
B · Photographic story	Name the person or place. One sentence of what they were doing. One line of what it means. No product mention.
C · Research object	What was studied. What it found. What it does not yet prove. Citation.
D · Product ritual	The moment. The formula in plain words. Where to get it. One line, no stacking.

CALLS TO ACTION

- Link in bio.
- Begin the ritual.
- Join us Sunday.
- Subscribe and hold the practice.
- Full breakdown in the description.

Never: "don't miss out," "last chance," "only X left," "tap tap tap," or any countdown language.

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION TEMPLATE

- 01 Name and format
- 02 One line of functional position
- 03 Formula, plain language, exact
- 04 The ritual it belongs to
- 05 Taste, honestly described
- 06 What it is not, if useful
- 07 Required disclaimer

SUBJECT LINES THAT FIT THE VOICE

The first hour · What cordyceps actually does · We opened the ledger · Sunday, 7am, the trail · A note on the new pouch · The ritual, written down

DO AND DO NOT – THE SAME IDEA, TWICE

DO NOT WRITE	WRITE
Boost your energy and crush your day!	Energy that holds through the hours that matter.
This miracle mushroom cures brain fog	Lion's mane is studied for its role in supporting cognitive function.
Detox your body from toxins	Ingredients chosen for what they add, not what they promise to remove.
The best coffee on the planet, period	The best-tasting mushroom coffee we know how to make.
Join the tribe and unlock your potential	Join us Sunday. Bring a cup.
Obsessed with this morning routine	The morning belongs to whoever prepares it.

EMAIL VOICE

Written as a letter, not a flyer. Cream ground, ink type, one crimson button. Opens with an observation, not an offer. One idea per send. The offer appears once, near the end, stated plainly. Signed by a person.

VERTICAL HOOKS, FIRST THREE SECONDS

- Every hook is written before the camera turns on
- Open on a statement or an action, never on a greeting
- No "wait for it," no "you won't believe," no question that begs
- The claim in the hook must survive the claims file in D.8

The test for any line

Read it aloud in a low voice. If it needs volume, energy or a smile to land, it is not the brand.

D.8 – REGULATORY LANGUAGE

WHAT MAY AND MAY NOT BE SAID

PENDING LEGAL REVIEW

Edition 02 p.70 governs claims philosophically. This section supplies the working artifact. It is drafted to the general standard for dietary supplements sold in the United States and requires review and sign-off by qualified counsel before any line here is published. It is a starting point for that review, not a substitute for it.

THE DISTINCTION THAT GOVERNS EVERYTHING

PERMITTED	NOT PERMITTED
Structure and function. How an ingredient relates to the normal structure or function of the body.	Disease claims. Any statement that the product diagnoses, treats, cures, mitigates or prevents a disease.

CONSTRUCTIONS THAT GENERALLY WORK

- Supports cognitive function
- Helps maintain focus and mental clarity
- Supports the body's natural energy production
- Traditionally used to support ...
- Studied for its role in ...
- Contains lion's mane and cordyceps

CONSTRUCTIONS TO AVOID ENTIRELY

- Treats, cures, prevents, heals, reverses
- Reduces the risk of any named condition
- Any mention of a named disease alongside the product
- Anti-inflammatory, immune-boosting, anti-anxiety
- Clinically proven, doctor recommended – without documentation
- Comparative superiority to a drug or a competitor's outcome

Accuracy creates authority. False certainty destroys it.

WORLD BIBLE EDITION 02, P.28

REQUIRED DISCLAIMER

These statements have not been evaluated by the Food and Drug Administration. This product is not intended to diagnose, treat, cure or prevent any disease.

Appears on packaging carrying a structure-function claim, on the product detail page, and in any asset making a functional statement. Legible, never tone-on-tone below the contrast minimum in Part Four.

ADDITIONAL FLAGS FOR THIS CATALOGUE

- CBD products carry their own regulatory and platform restrictions and separate advertising limits. Treat every CBD asset as a distinct review track.
- Creatine claims are well-supported and still structure-function only.
- Testimonials require the customer's written permission, must reflect a typical result, and may never be assembled from a synthetic face.
- Affiliate and creator content requires clear disclosure of the material connection, and affiliates are given the same banned-words list.

Chain of approval

Writer drafts → claims checked against this list → anything new or ambiguous goes to counsel → approved language enters the claims file → the claims file, never memory, is what future copy is written from.

THE PHOTOGRAPHIC RECORD

FOR THE FOUNDER REVIEW

OPEN DECISIONS LOG

Eight items require a founder decision before Edition 02 can govern live production. Each is recorded here with a recommended resolution so the review is a set of yes-or-no calls rather than an open discussion.

#	DECISION	RECOMMENDED RESOLUTION
01	The palette pivot invalidates current packaging and 150+ backordered units.	Sell through existing stock. New palette at the next print run. Locked before Black Friday.
02	Two wordmarks are live in market and nothing can legally print without a production vector.	Confirm Mark A as the brand, fund the vector and trademark review now, and apply the gap-period photography rule in 2.3.
03	Four pending licensed type families against a lean budget.	License the display face and the house sans now. Defer the editorial serif and mono to the fallback stack in 3.4.
04	Founder approval required on every locked rule.	Delegate execution inside locked rules to the producer. Weekly batch approvals. Founder veto reserved for lock changes.
05	Research pipeline versus the core catalogue.	Name the core eight products. Launch at most two new items this season.
06	Feed law versus the volume the satellite channels need.	Edition 02 governs the flagship grid. Satellites run a lighter field mode, signed once.
07	All generated imagery is currently internal-only.	Adopt the three-tier system in Appendix B.1.
08	The S symbol has no legitimate public use but the favicon needs a letter.	Pick one of the three options in 2.5. Until then the favicon is a solid Black Cherry field.

WHAT ADOPTION LOOKS LIKE

- Edition 02 locked as authored, dated to the quarter
- This addendum adopted beneath it as Parts Two to Four and Appendices A through D
- The casting ratio added to the asset score
- The generative tier declared on every synthetic asset
- The wordmark decision made and the master folder distributed
- The quarterly review dated, with an agenda and a scoreboard

The position

This document is the direction the team has been asking for. Adopt it, govern by it, and protect it from the one thing that has undone every strong direction before it: changing it mid-flight. Lock it for the quarter, delegate execution authority inside it, and the machine runs.

The world is not a campaign backdrop. It is the brand.
